Acknowledgements

I AM DELIGHTED TO THANK ALL institutions and persons involved in organisations of the 2nd International Conference of the European Society for the History of Science “The Global and the Local: The History of Science and the Cultural Integration of Europe” (Cracow, September 6–9, 2006), such as the institutional organisers and organisational partners of the conference, the media partners, the sponsors of the conference, the members of the Honorary, Programme and Local Committees, the organisers and chairpersons of the symposia and round-table discussions, the authors of plenary lectures, contributed papers and posters, all other regular participants, all guests as well as all the persons from the staff of the conference.

If this conference has been successful, its success is our common outcome!
